GODMANCHESTER 5245 2707. Borough 1319 (BF, p. 126). 1334 Subsidy £142.67. Site of Roman fort and settlement. Assessed as a borough in 1319, but this probably reflects its status as ancient demesne, rather than its urban character (J.F. Willard, 'Taxation boroughs and parliamentary boroughs' in J.G. Edwards, V.H. Galbraith and E.F. Jacob eds, Historical Essays in Honour of James Tait (Manchester, 1933), p. 432; Glasscock, p. 136). Nevertheless, the later medieval settlement had some commercial features (J.A. Raftis, A Small Town in Late Medieval England: Godmanchester 1278–1400 (Toronto, 1982), esp. pp. 189–201). No grants were made to hold a market or fair here in the medieval period. However, it is probable that a market was held at Horseshoe Corner. KING'S RIPTON 5261 2765. Borough 1319 (BF, p. 127). Assessed as a borough in 1319, but this probably reflects its status as ancient demesne, rather than its urban character (J.F. Willard, 'Taxation boroughs and parliamentary boroughs' in J.G. Edwards, V.H. Galbraith and E.F. Jacob eds, Historical Essays in Honour of James Tait (Manchester, 1933), p. 432; Glasscock, p. 136). 1334 Subsidy £19.56. VCH does not mention a market or fair. See also VCH Huntingdonshire, ii, pp. 207–10.

OFFORD CLUNY 5219 2670. Borough 1319 (BF, p. 127). Assessed as a borough in 1319, but this probably reflects its status as ancient demesne, rather than its urban character (J.F. Willard, 'Taxation boroughs and parliamentary boroughs' in J.G. Edwards, V.H. Galbraith and E.F. Jacob eds, Historical Essays in Honour of James Tait (Manchester, 1933), p. 432; Glasscock, p. 136). 1334 Subsidy £35.63. VCH does not mention a market or fair. See also VCH Huntingdonshire, ii, pp. 319–22.

- M (Prescriptive: borough) No further information for the market.

RAMSEY 5291 2852. 1334 Subsidy £91.50. Market town c.1600 (Everitt, p. 474).

- M (Charter) Wed; mercatum, gr 22 Oct 1200, by K John to A and M of Ramsey. To be held at their vill (RCh, p. 76b). On 20 Mar 1267, K Hen III granted a Wed market to the A and C of Ramsey (CChR, 1257–1300, p. 73). Market held by the A of Ramsey recorded in 1286 (QW, p. 305). The market was still held in 1544 (VCH Huntingdonshire, ii, p. 193).
- F (Charter) vf+2, Trans of Benedict (11 Jul); gr 20 Mar 1267, by K Hen III to A and C of Ramsey (CChR, 1257–1300, p. 73). The fair was still held in 1544 (VCH Huntingdonshire, ii, p. 193).

ST IVES 5314 2712. In the 1334 Lay Subsidy, St Ives was assessed with the soke of Slepe at £136.88 (Glasscock, p. 137). Market town c.1600 (Everitt, p. 474). Fair 1587, 21 Sept (Harrison, p. 396). See also E.W. Moore, The Fairs of Medieval England, an Introductory Study (Toronto, 1985), pp. 13–15 and passim.

M (Grant: other) mercatum, gr 1200, by K John to A of Ramsey. Nova Oblata: A of Ramsey owed 60*m*. and one palfrey for having a market and for a confirmation of his charters (PR, 2 John, p. 169). Nova Oblata: A of Ramsey accounts for £100 for a royal charter for various privileges, including having two markets, at St Ives and at Upwell, Norfolk (q.v.) (PR, 4 John, p. 136). In 1227, the burgesses of Huntingdon complained that the A of Ramsey's Tues market was damaging the town of Huntingdon, Huntingdonshire (q.v.). They stated that the market at St Ives would prevent ships coming to Huntingdon. The market at St Ives was also alleged to be damaging the market at Yaxley, Huntingdonshire (q.v.), held by the A of Thorney who claimed that the traffic in ships going to St Ives was so great that they would not dock at Yaxley on Thurs, the day of its market. The men of the A of Ramsey stated that as there was as much traffic by land as by sea, the St Ives market could not be damaging that at Yaxley (CRR, xiii, no. 386). There is no record of a decision in this legal case. It is possible that the A of Ramsey lost his right to hold a market at St Ives, until a new market was granted by charter in 1292 (see below).

M (Charter) Mon; gr 14 May 1292, by K Edw I to A and C of Ramsey (CChR, 1257–1300, p. 427). To be held at the manor.

F (Grant: other) Wed in Easter week to the following Wed (Easter dep); gr 1110, by K Hen I to St Benedict of Ramsey and St Ives of Slepe [Ramsey abbey] (Regesta, ii, no. 953). In 1129, K Hen I confirmed the grant to Rainald A of Ramsey and his M (Regesta, ii, no. 1585). In 1135, K Hen I granted the A and M of Ramsey and St Ives a fair from Mon in Easter week to Mon next (Regesta, ii, no. 1916). On 14 Jun 1170 x Nov 1171, Henry the Young King ordered the sh, bailiffs and reeves of Huntingdon to allow Ramsey abbey to have its rights in the fair of St Ives (R.J. Smith, 'Henry II's heir: the Acta and seal of Henry the Young King, 1170–83', English Historical Review, 116 (2001), no. 28). The fair was mentioned in 1198 (PR, 10 Ric I, p. 161). On 22 Oct 1200, K John confirmed the fair held by the A, ch and M of Ramsey at St Ivo de Slepe and the hundred and a half of Clacklose (RCh, p. 76). By the early thirteenth century, this was one of the major fairs of England, generating an income of £101 in 1207 and £180 in 1212 (E.W. Moore, The Fairs of Medieval England, an Introductory Study (Toronto, 1985), p. 14). Fair referred to in 1207, 1210 and 1211; fair at St Ives on 15 Apr noted in 1222 (PR, 9 John, pp. 110–11; PR, 12 John, p. 215; PR, 13 John, p. 207; CRR, x, p. 338). An unspecified number of fairs, the feasts of which were not given, were operating in Apr 1225 (RLC, ii, pp. 24, 70). In 1227, the burgesses of Huntingdon complained that the A of Ramsey's fair was damaging the town of Huntingdon, Huntingdonshire (q.v.) (CRR, xiii, no. 386). On 17 Apr 1227, K Hen III ordered the sh of Huntingdon to ensure that the A and M of Ramsey had their fair from the Wed in Easter week until the eighth day, as set out in the charter of K Hen I and as they were accustomed to hold it in the time of his ancestors (RLC, ii, p. 181b). Fair of St Ives held by A of Ramsey from Tues in Easter to Tues after Easter was noted 1234–5. The A claimed the tolls from the fair by a charter of K Hen II. The bailiffs of Huntingdon stated that they had a right to the customs of the fair by a charter of K John. They alleged that the A had sent armed men to the fair, who had impeded them and collected the customs to the damage of 40*m*. An inquisition found that the fair was not held in the reign of K Hen I, but during K Ric I's reign. The bailiffs of Huntingdon had always taken customs from the fair from the Tues, between the third hour and the ninth hour. They took this toll between the fair and the bridge (CRR, xv, no. 1352). In 1234–5, the A of Ramsey stated that his fair lasted from Mon on the eve of Easter until Wed after the Sun after Easter. However, the sh of Huntingdon stated that until the reign of K Hen II, the fair had not been held on the Tues after the Sun after Easter (CRR, xv, no. 1352). On 7 May 1258, K Hen III granted the A and C of Ramsey all the profit of the fair held at St Ives at Easter, notwithstanding that the fair was only granted to them for eight days, after which period the profits used to go to the king. This was in return for a payment of 500*m*. and £50 each year in perpetuity (CChR, 1257–1300, p. 10; E.W. Moore, The Fairs of Medieval England, an Introductory Study (Toronto, 1985), p. 15). In 1286, the A of Ramsey claimed to hold the fair by a charter of K Hen I to the M of Ramsey (QW, p. 306).

F (Grant: other) Laurence (10 Aug); gr 1202, by K John to A of Ramsey (PR, 4 John, p. 136). In 1202, the A of Ramsey owed 40*m*. for having a charter granting a fair lasting eight days at Laurence and for letters patent. He had not paid in 1203 (PR, 5 John, p. 4).

Fair held by A of Ramsey at St Ives, the feast of which was not given, was noted in 1207 (RLC, i, p. 83b). Fair held by A of Ramsey noted in 1212 (PR, 14 John, pp. 6, 43, 78). Fair at St Ives noted in 1219 (CRR, viii, p. 147). Fair of St Ives noted three times in 1223 (CRR, xi, nos. 341, 1405, 1335). Fair mentioned in 1240 (CRR, xvi, no. 1285). Fairs of St Ives, the feasts of which were not given, were referred to in a charter dated 5 Mar 1252 (CChR, 1226–57, p. 379). On 22 Oct 1275, the rent of the fair, receivable from the A of Ramsey, was assigned to Qu Eleanor of Castile in dower for life (CChR, 1257–1300, p. 193). In 1314, the fair of the A of Ramsey at St Ives was recorded (Abb. Plac., p. 321). Fair referred to in a charter on 26 Feb 1327 (CChR, 1327–41, p. 3). This information could refer to either the Easter or the August fair.

ST NEOTS 5184 2604. The charters of St Neots priory were destroyed c.1265. In the 1334 Lay Subsidy, St Neots, Eynesbury, Hardwick and Wintringham were assessed together at £193.75. Eynesbury was part of the manor of St Neots from the later half of the tenth century (Glasscock, p. 137; VCH Huntingdonshire, ii, pp.

339, 341). Market town c.1600 (Everitt, p. 474 ). Fair 1587, Ascension day, Thurs after Trinity Sun; 1 Aug (Harrison, pp. 393–5).

M (Grant: other) Thurs; gr 1100x35, by K Hen I to ch of St Mary of Bec and the P and M of St Neots [St Neots priory] (Regesta, ii, no. 1966). Grant confirmed by K Steph and K Hen II (VCH Huntingdonshire, ii, p. 341). In 1156x1172–3, K Hen II confirmed the market to the M of St Neots (Actes de Henri II, i, p. 509). M (Grant: other) Thurs; gr 1066x1087, by K Wil I to St Mary of Thorney [Thorney abbey] (QW, p. 298). In 1130, K Hen I granted a Thurs market to the ch of St Mary of Thorney, just as K Wil II had granted it (Regesta, ii, nos. 1664, 1666). In the same year, the A of Thorney accounted for 1*m.* gold for the market (PR, 31 Hen I, p. 49). In 1135x54 and 1136x40, K Steph made two confirmations of the Thurs market to Thorney abbey, as in the charters of K Wil II and K Hen I (Regesta, iii, nos. 881, 882). Two of K Steph's writs, dated 1135x41 and 1139x53, refer to the market (Regesta, iii, nos. 883, 884). In 1155x58, K Hen II granted a Thurs market to the ch of St Mary, Thorney by charter, as in the charters of K Wil [it is not clear whether this was K Wil I or K Wil II, although in 1286 the grant was attributed to K Wil I – see below] and K Hen I (CChR, 1300–26, p. 244). Market held by the A of Thorney mentioned in 1201, 1212 (when it was stated to be held on Thurs) and 1226 (CRR, i, pp. 449–50; CRR, vi, pp. 264; CRR, xii, no. 2577). K Hen III made an inspeximus of K Hen II's charter on 22 Nov 1227 (CChR, 1226–57, p. 65). In 1227, the A of Thorney alleged that his market at Yaxley was being damaged by that at St Ives, Huntingdonshire (q.v.). He claimed that the traffic in ships going to St Ives was so great that they would not dock at Yaxley on Thurs, the day of its market. The men of the A of Ramsey stated that as there was as much traffic by land as by sea, the St Ives market could not be damaging that at Yaxley (CRR, xiii, no. 386). In 1279, the market was worth 60s. (VCH Huntingdonshire, iii, p. 242). In 1286, the A of Thorney claimed the Thurs market by a charter of K Wil I. This claim was accepted (QW, p. 298). This was apparently the first occasion on which the A of Thorney explicitly claimed that the market had been granted by K Wil I. The market had begun to decline by 1562 and failed in the next century (VCH Huntingdonshire, iii, p. 242).

- F (Letter Close) Sat, Sun, Mon, Tues and Wed after Ascension of the Lord (Easter dep); feria gr 17 Apr 1226, by K Hen III to A of Thorney. Letter close to sh of Huntingdon regarding the fair dated 28 Apr 1227 (RLC, ii, p. 183b). Fair held by A of Thorney recorded in 1286 (QW, p. 298). In the reign of K Edw I, the profits of the fair were 6s. 8d. per year. The fair continued into the twentieth century (VCH Huntingdonshire, iii, pp. 242–3).
